SLOAN[®]

Sloan's Sensor-Operated Door Handle Deep-Cleaning System

The Challenge

- Pathogens transmitted hand-to-door-handle cause the spread of infection
- Nearly 75% of people fail to wash their hands after using the restroom
- Many different kinds of bacteria may colonize on door handles. Some can live on a door handle for as long as 3 days
- Building occupants will go to any length to exit washrooms without making contact with door handles

The Solution

Sloan's SJS-1950 Patented Sensor-Operated Door Handle Dispenser

- Provides 24-hour-a-day automatic deep-cleaning protection
- Installs easily on doors
- Motion sensor prevents spraying a person's hand on the handle
- Flashing power light indicates unit operation
- Refill light indicator flashes when approximately 3 days of spray remains
- Light sensor powers down unit when room lights are off
- Spray interval times are adjustable to 15, 30 and 60 minutes
- Refills last up to 10 weeks
- Battery-operated for easy installation

*Sensor-Operated Door Handle Deep-Cleaning Systems is manufactured for Sloan by HYSO-Hygienic Solutions.

How It Works

The battery-operated dispenser's advanced circuit technology automatically releases an instant dry, deep cleaning spray solution that instantly covers the door handle at preset intervals.
